

Steve Morrical

Senior Technical Service Engineer

Holcim (US), Inc.

Mr. Morrical is a graduate of Penn State University with a B.S. in Forest Science and Montana State University with a B.S. in Construction Engineering. He brings 30 years of manufacturing and technical service experience in the cement and concrete industry.

Mr. Morrical has served on ACI Committee 306 “Cold Weather Concrete” and Committee 232A “Flyash-Use of Natural Pozzolans.” He serves as an Associate Professor at Montana State University instructing Concrete Technology in the Construction Engineering Curriculum and is currently employed as the Senior Technical Service Engineer for Holcim (US) Inc.